With another sports season Cortland State Teachers College begins its seventy-fifth year of competitive sports. In a very real sense of the word this competitive sports program represents the entire student body more than any other activity. With millions of other Americans we believe that the sportsmanship demonstrated in American sports develops a sense of fair play and cooperation that carries over into the social world. Certainly these are qualities needed in our world today so we are all eager to participate in the development of a program, which in its development, establishes these high qualities. In no small sense of the word, if this result is attained we are all victors and there is no loss.

FRANCIS J. MOENCH
Director of Training for Physical Education and Health

Cortland State Teachers has always promoted competitive athletics as a part of a well-rounded physical education. During the past few years, competitive athletics went to war. One has only to read the record to learn of the great contribution made by competitive athletics to a country at war. Our competitive sports should be of even greater value to a Democratic nation at peace. The year 1947 will go down in history as a banner year for athletics at Cortland only in so far as the members of the teams, the coaching staff, the student body, the college faculty and administration and our loyal Cortland supporters join forces to make it the best year ever. Sorry I can't be with you this year. Good luck for a successful season!

x—Denotes letterman

During the eight seasons it has competed in Inter-collegiate Soccer under the guidance of Coach T. F. Holloway, Cortland has always been among the leaders in the East. In 1947, their ninth year of competition, the Red Mules hope to once again battle their way into the national Soccer spotlight!

Captain Charlie May, who gained an All-American berth last season, leads an experienced team with many of last year's lettermen back in the lineup. The capable leadership of Captain May and the watchful eye of Coach Holloway are a double-barreled threat to all opponents that, winning or losing, the Red Mules will be a tough Joe this season.

Coach Holloway is a well known figure in the Intercollegiate soccer world both as a player and coach. He still plays a pretty good game, as any of the Varsity men will tell you.
